NOVEMBER 30, 1877. Major William H. Jarvis, whose illness was noticed in my last letter, died this morning in Danville, to which city he removed with his family from Petersburg a tow months ago. The deceased was a gentleman of many fine traits, and was a prominent Odd-Feilow. He was about tiftyfive years of age, was for many years chief engineer of the Fire Department, and leaves a widow and six children. His body will be brought to Petersburg for inter-

The internal-revenue receipts in this district for the month of November amounted to $84,443. Of this sum nearly $82,000 was collected on tobacco.

Rev. Dr. Hall and Rev. Dr. Twing, of New York, are registered to-day at the Bollingbrook Hotel.

The receipts and sales of loose tobacco have been heavier during the past week or ten days than at any previous time during the year. It has frequently occurred that the sales at a single warehouse would occupy the attention of the buyers nearly all

The owner of the trotting-horse Bay Harry, which died suddenly at our Fairgrounds a few days ago, is here to-day getting proof of the animal's death to enable him to draw the money for which he was insured. The horse, I understand, was insured in Wheeling for $1,000, and the company declines to pay the amount unless upon proper proof of death. His body, which was buried in Chesterfield by the city scavenger, was to-day disinterred for identification. Bay Harry was brought here with a number of other horses after the close of the State Fair at Richmond, and was entered for several races on our track.

The Roanoke river during the late freshet is said to have been fully six feet higher than it was ever before known to be. The destruction of property along its banks above and below Weldon is believed to have been immense. Farm buildings were carried off; crops ruined or swept away; with perfect indifference. large numbers of cattle drowned; and a vast quantity of lumber lost. It will be some days yet before the loss caused by this flood can be approximately estimated.

For about one bour last night we had a regular snow- and hall-storm, followed by a decided fall in temperature. This morning the snow covered the ground and roofs of houses, the ground was hard frozen, and ice was a quarter of an inch thick.

During the month ending to-day eighteen marriage-licenses were issued in this cityeleven to white and seven to colored coucord in the clerk's office; $77.50 in fines seven cases disposed of.

Rev. A. G. GRAND LODGE I. O. G. T .- ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY-HEALTHY CONDITION OF THE ORDER-ELECTION OF OFFICERS-PUB-LIC MEETING-REVIVAL, &C. (Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)

NOVEMBER 30, 1877. I tried to telegraph you yesterday's proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars last night, but the Western Union office was closed between 7 and 9 P. M. for Thanksgiving-day. The Grand Lodge organized with fiftyseven subordinate lodges, represented by about eighty delegates, Grand Worthy Chief Templar Dr. W. S. Christian presiding. The report of the secretary, George W. Hawxhurst, was read. He refers, in illustrating the rapid growth of the order, to the fact that five years ago it met in Staunton with only seven subordinate lodges constituting a quorum, and representing a membership of 500, while now there are 156 lodges, with a membership of 6,500, located in forty-three counties of the State. The report shows that there are 6,613 members | report shows that there are 6,613 members of disease, than mineral medicines. # ROCKBRIDGE COUNTY.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] NOVEMBER 27, 1877.

The freshet in James river was greater ast Saturday than any that is within the memory of persons now living, exceeding that of 1842 by not less than five and a half feet (54). Beginning at Jackson, a small village several miles above Buchanan and about two hundred and five or six miles above Richmond, beyond which my information does not yet extend, and going down as far as the mouth of North river, I could send you a record of losses which would exceed all the space you can spare for this letter. The distance within these limits is about twenty-five miles. At Jackson, besides houses carried away, several colored men lost their lives. At Buchanan the bridge was carried off, also stores and other houses. At Skidmore's Ferry fourteen colored people (Henry May and family), rability, and Evenness of Point. In 15 numbers. colored people (Henry May and family) who sought safety in the ferry-boat, were drowned. At Dillon, Ellett & Co.'s lime kilns the store of Messrs. Heth & Muson was under water up to the caves, and other losses sustained, besides the great loss of the canal as a means of transportation to the kilns. At Gilmore's mill Dr. Bradley's store was full of water nearly to the ceiling, and the mill seriously damaged. At Mr. Frederick Johnston's, saw-mill removed a short distance, a grist-mill removed from its foundation, and lumber and other i property lost. At Powers's locks, residence carried away. At the mouth of north river, storehouse of Messrs. Lockers' cement-mills carried off and cement-mills damaged. Besides these public losses, the losses of private property, barns, tobacco, corn, forage, &c., will amount to many thousands. On the chief tributaries of the James in this section-viz., on Cedar creek, Buffalo and North rivers—the tidings of loss are in proportion to those on the James; but it is evident that while in 1870 the North river was higher than the James, it was less swollen ban the James this time. At Hardy's, on Cedar creek, the saw-mill was carried off, and the flour mill and dam injured. At Buffalo mills the saw-mill was ruined and flour mill damaged. On the same stream Zollmen's store was carried off; Bunker Hill mills injured seriously; and the bridge at Brady's carried off. In addition to numerous losses at Lexington and at other places on the North river, there was some loss of life on that stream also, as indicated by several bodies found in the vicinity of its mouth.

irretrievably ruined. We have yet had no mails from Richmond, and wait anxiously for news from the railroads and all the lower country, where, as we have reason to believe, the losses and distresses must have been far beyond our experience here.

The rain began Wednesday night, 21st, about 10 o'clock, and continued until Saturday morning. The heaviest rain was Friday night, 23d, when we had severe 24th, and then fell rapidly. TUCKAHOE.

THE GREAT REPUTATION WHICH has attained in all parts of the country as a GREAT AND GOOD MEDICINE, and the large number of testimonials which are con stantly being received from persons who have been cured by its use, are conclusive proof of its great value. It is recommended by physicians and apoth-ccaries. As a Blood-Purifier and Health-Restorer it has no crual.

VEGETINE is not prepared for a fancy drink made rom poor liquors, which debilitates the system and tends to destroy health instead of restoring it. Are not the many testimonials given for the differ-ent complaints satisfactory to any reasonable persons suffering from disease that they can be cured? Read the different testimonials given, and no one can doubt. In many of these cases the persons say that their pain and suffering cannot be expressed, as in cases of Scrofula, where apparently the whole body was one mass of corruption. If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleane, purify; and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood—in the circulating fluid. It can be truly called the Great Blood-Purifier. The great source of disease origirent testimonials given, and no one can Blood-Purifier. The great source of disease origi-nates in the blood, and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention. When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, frequency fact, or from any other cause, the VEGETINE will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of visor to the whole body. The conviction is, in the public mind as well as in the medical profession, that the remedles supplied by the Vegetoble Kingdom are more safe, more successful in the cure Kingdom are more safe, more successful in the cur to take, and is perfectly safe to give an infant.

Republicans that General Butler was in no wise responsible for it. His attack upon the administration was vigorous and undisguised, if it was not polite. He averred that the responsibility for the non-punishment of the Hamburg rioters rested upon the President, who had held back the arm of Justice. "Who holds back the arm of Justice?" shouted Patterson hoarsely, brandishing his arm. "That man whom we placed in the White House. That man holds back the arm of Justice in South Carolina. He is responsible." Again, re-

and of conciliating his foes. "New robes," said he, "from the State and Interior Departments are found for the returning prodigals, and the musty folds of the Confederate flag have been gently unrolled to find a Key to lock the doors of the Post-Office Department against southern Repub-troops from South Carolina, and said the Office Department against southern Republicans." It was noticeable that the Vice-President, in spite of his previous declaration that he could vote in tie votes, announced that the amendment fell because the vote was a tie.

An amendment next offered by Morgan, but afterwards withdrawn, caused a slight tilt between Morgan and Conkling, which developed the fact that the new senator from Alabama is quite able to cope with the "Achilles of the Senate," and is one of the elearest thinkers and most pleasing talkers in the Senate.
